Formed in Munich in 1997, CHICKS ON SPEED is an international multi-disciplinary art group who apply punk-inspired DIY ethics to interrogate the boundaries of art, craft, fashion, music and new media. An interchangeable collective of artists who live and work all over the world from Estonia to Barcelona, the group has a strong but playful feminist agenda, using their work to highlight the place of women in the world and in the world of art. The group's practice ranges across cutting edge electro-clash music and performance art, a record label and collage graphics, painting and DIY fashion, and is characterised by irreverent humour and a chaotic, energetic aesthetic. Founding members are Melissa Logan (born USA, 1970, lives and works in Hamburg), Alex Murray-Leslie (born Australia, 1970, lives and works in Barcelona) and Kiki Moorse (now works independently).

Represented by Kate MacGarry, London
